DETAILED ACTION

Claim Objections

1. Claim 1 is objected to because of the following informalities: Claim 1 recites, “thus covering the outside rose liner, the inside rose liner, the outside rose liner, and the fireproof cover being engaged together”. This limitation is confusing and does not read well. The examiner has interpreted the claim as “thus covering the outside rose liner;(semi colon added) the inside rose liner, the outside rose liner, and the fireproof cover being engaged together”. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

3. Claims 1 and 2 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by U.S. Patent No. 5,723,578 to Kang.

Kang '578 discloses an inside rose (17); inside rose liner (1); an outside rose (17a); outside rose liner (1a); a latch (inherent that the lever assembly for a door lock operates a latch); a spindle (4); a fireproof cover (15) including a longitudinal through-hole (figure 1; hole in 15); the cover mounted outside the outside rose liner and thus covering the outside rose liner (figure 1); the inside rose liner, the outside rose liner, and the fireproof cover being engaged together (figure 1; engaged together when assembled through interconnected components).

As concerns claim 2, the cover is made of steel (column 2, lines 22-23).

Allowable Subject Matter

4. Claims 3-8 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

5. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
